The school works collaboratively with parents, so children receive consistent messages about how to behave at home and at school.

We explain the school rules in the school prospectus, and we expect parents to read these and support them.

We expect parents to support their child's learning, and to co-operate with the school, as set out in the home-school agreement. We try to build a supportive dialogue between the home and the school, and we inform parents immediately if we have concerns about their child's welfare or behaviour.

Supporting their child in adhering to the school rules and reinforcing this at home.

Informing the school of any changes in circumstances which may affect their child's behaviour.

If the school has to use reasonable actions to sanction a child, it expects parents to support these. If parents have any concern about the way that their child has been treated they should follow the school complaints policy. Initially this means they need to contact the class teacher who may refer them to the head of pastoral care.

Introduction

It is a primary aim of our school that every member of the school community feels valued and respected, and that each person is treated fairly and well. We are a caring school community, whose values are built upon the British values of:

- Democracy.
- The rule of law.
- Individual liberty.
- Mutual respect for and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs and for those without faith.

The school behaviour policy is therefore designed to support the way in which all members of the school can live and work together in a supportive way. It aims to promote an environment where everyone feels happy, safe and secure.

The behaviour policy is in line with the DFE Behaviour and Discipline guidance, January 2016 and acknowledges the school's legal duties under the Equality Act 2010, in respect of safeguarding and in respect of pupils with special educational needs (SEN).

The school has 4 values to guide children's behaviour;

To enjoy and have fun in school we:

- Learn
- Show Care
- Respect
- Keep Safe

These guidelines were developed by the whole school. Staff and pupils worked together to discuss helpful and hurtful behaviours and how we could avoid the latter. This policy supports the school community in aiming to allow everyone to work together in an effective and considerate way, to help children to grow in a safe and secure environment, and to become positive, responsible and increasingly independent members of the school community.

We treat all children fairly and apply this behaviour policy in a consistent way, it is vital that children understand these rules and that we apply them consistently. Children must be given clear warnings and reminded that they need to be responsible for their own choices and actions. The school rewards good behaviour, as it believes that this will develop an ethos of kindness and co-operation.

This policy is designed to promote good behaviour, rather than merely deter anti-social behaviour.

Behaviour Management

The Restorative Approach

At Carnforth School, incidences of negative behaviour are dealt with in a fair, respectful and appropriate way, with the key focus on individuals taking responsibility for their behaviour, repairing any harm done, rebuilding and restoring relationships. The key principle when dealing with issues is to give all the people involved a chance to have their say and become actively involved in the process. All members of staff and children know that issues will be dealt with fairly with a 'no blame' approach.

When there have been incidences between two or more children, key questions will be asked to find out what has happened and how the individuals involved can make things right again, or repair the harm caused. Our aim is not to ask 'Why?' something has happened but to determine what has led up to an issue and resolve it in a positive way. Everyone involved in an incident is taken through Restorative dialogue and is therefore supported in coming to understand the harm that has been caused to all parties.

The Restorative Questions:

- ✓ What happened? Drawing out each person's story one at a time, starting with the person who has caused the harm. The aim is not to come to a definitive conclusion on what has happened, but for each person to have their point of view listened to.
- ✓ What do you think and feel about that? What each person was thinking and feeling at the time, before and since.
- ✓ Who has been affected and how? Who has been harmed/affected and how? Older children are encouraged to think about the wider implications of who has been affected e.g. families.

- ✓ What are the needs of those involved? What those affected need to feel better, move on, repair harm and rebuild relationships.
- ✓ What do you think needs to happen next to make things right with each other and with the school community? How do those people agree and negotiate meeting the needs identified above and what support might they need to do this? Staff support pupils in this process but try to ensure the pupils form their own agreement when possible. The children can refer to the zone boards to consider how they can make appropriate amends with the high-expectations of the school community.

This approach encourages those involved to identify ways in which a relationship can be repaired or how they can move forward. By giving pupils this responsibility, we are supporting them in developing their own strategies for avoiding and resolving conflict. We also believe that if pupils reach their own agreement as to how to move forward after a conflict, they are more likely to abide by it than if it is suggested by an adult or imposed upon them. By involving the pupils in the design of the agreement we give them ownership over it and ensure it is helping them to resolve the situation and make amends in their own way.

All staff working within our school use active listening skills when dealing with a conflict. This enables them to draw out more from those involved.

Implementation of the Restorative Approach

At Carnforth School, we recognise that all children are unique individuals and therefore we are flexible in the manner in which we address any incidences of negative behaviour. The stages of the Restorative Approach underpin our method in dealing with behaviour issues, but we are conscious that we adapt our approach to ensure it is suitable for the pupil's age and level of understanding.

When working with pupils in the Early Years Foundation Stage, our focus is on the initial stages of the Restorative Approach. Staff working with these pupils focus on helping them to grasp the concepts of feelings and how they are caused. Modelling, small group work, peer support and visual resources such as photographs and Communicate in Print cards are all used to support the pupils' understanding and development of empathy.

This approach is also adapted for other pupils throughout the school. Pupils with low levels of emotional maturity or with Special Educational Needs can require support in recognising how their actions have affected others or how they feel about an incident. Pupils are supported in developing their understanding of the Restorative Approach using tailored resources, lessons and at their own pace. Children identified as having significant social, emotional or mental health needs may require an alternative approach, which will be discussed and decided upon by the team around the child on an individual basis.

Staff use their discretion and knowledge of the pupils involved to determine how best to implement this approach and who to involve.

Bucket Filler Pledge

At Carnforth we use the bucket filler pledge to reinforce kindness. Every day we try to fill people's bucket with kindness such as:

- Share something with them
- Let them over hear you saying something kind about them to someone else
- Use your manners
- Create ways to include them
- Think of something kind you can do for someone else and do it together

- Write a thank you note
- Tell someone you are proud of them, with a specific reason why
- Leave sticky notes for someone, with kind messages on them
- Listen when someone needs you to listen
- Tell someone you love, that you love them
- Smile
- Do something fun!

Friendship Ambassadors

From Year R – 6 two children have been voted to be friendship ambassadors and they will have training provided on organising and playing games during break and lunch times.

Peer Mentors

From Year 2 – 6 two children have been voted to be peer mentors and are the responsible for listening to any children who have worries and they can either facilitate restorative justice for low level issues or speak to an adult about these concerns.

Zone board

The school uses a zone board to support the school's behaviour policy and school guidelines. It also provides a visual representation of the behaviour choices being made by individuals and whole classes. In some circumstances a child with additional needs may have their own personal zone boards. Zone boards do not need to be transported round the school.

The zone board contains 5 coloured sections. At the start of both morning and afternoon sessions children's names are returned to Green if they were in Orange or Red before lunch time. A child may work their way up the ladder from orange/red to green but still has to do their 5/15 minute detention. It is an expectation that children should be in green or above because a child in green is following the school's rules and showing a positive learning attitude.

'It's good to be in green'

Children move up the zone board for both good behaviour and good effort. The two sections above green are silver and gold.

Active acts of kindness
Self-assured learners
Excellent attitude to learning
Impeccable conduct
Self-disciplined
Being a good role model by:
Being Proud of achievements

Enjoying the learning Working hard to Achieve success Respecting all adults and property
Being ready and prepared to do your best work at all times Taking care of yourself, others and our school Always being polite, helpful and co-operative Being in the right place at the right time
Answering back Shouting out Refusing to do as you are told Teasing others Wasting time, not getting on with your work Lying
Writing on objects and in places you shouldn't (books, walls and doors) Leaving the learning environment Using bad language Destroying property like displays and pupil's clothes Climbing Physically hurting someone Stealing

Rewards

We praise and reward children for good behaviour in a variety of ways:

- House points will be rewarded to children who make good choices in learning and behaviour. Order of colours and number of points
 - 10Bronze 10Silver 20Gold 30Emerald 40Saffire 50Platinum 60Diamond
- Certificates each week during our celebration assembly when children are rewarded for showing resilience and achievement. These are displayed on the board for everyone to see.
- Stickers and postcards for outstanding attitude to learning, acts of kindness, civility or helpfulness within the school and the local community.

- Good to be green wall – certificates handed out each half term for children who make consistently good choices without the need for red and orange reminders. A small prize will be issued.

As with praise, the school understands that providing rewards after certain behaviour means that pupils are more likely to model the same behaviour again. For rewards to be effective, the school recognises that they need to be:

- Immediate – immediately rewarded following good behaviour.
- Consistent – consistently rewarded to maintain the behaviour.
- Achievable – keeping rewards achievable to maintain attention and motivation.
- Fair – making sure all pupils are fairly rewarded.

SANCTIONS

Good behaviour is an expectation at all times within our school however when required the school employs a number of sanctions to enforce the school rules, and to ensure a safe and positive learning environment. We employ each sanction appropriately to each individual situation.

All children will receive a verbal reminder before a sanction is given. At a time where a child is making a poor choice, the child will be reminded of the school rules (displayed in each classroom) and asked to reflect on their behaviour, teachers will provide time for the child to think about their actions and to respond responsibly.

If a child then continues to display inappropriate behaviour then the child is moved down on the zone board.

Orange zone

A move to orange will result in a 5 minute break detention of lunchtime detention supervised by the class teacher. Once in orange, if the child's behaviour improves, the adult will move the child back to green. However if the child continues to display inappropriate behaviour the child will be moved to red.

Red zone

All red sanctions are recorded on CPOMS (see the roles and responsibilities of staff) and a move to red will result in a 15 minute detention supervised by the class teacher.

Children will immediately enter red if any of the following behaviours are shown:

- Writing on objects and in places they shouldn't
- Using bad language/Swearing/Sexual/Homophobic or Racial (parent/carer may be contacted if appropriate) these are also recorded on a log
- Leaving the learning environment
- Physical violence
- Purposeful Vandalism
- Climbing
- Stealing

Following repeated disruptive behaviour or 3 red sanctions in a half term parents will be contacted and will be expected to work in partnership with the school through a reporting system. This will be implemented for a fortnight. If poor behaviour choices escalate or continue, the child will receive a Report Card for a fortnight. This will allow all stakeholders to communicate effectively using written form. This will also be recorded on CPOMS. If the child's behaviour continues to escalate, a Pastoral Support Plan will be put in place. Parents, the child, the teacher and the Pastoral Lead of the school will carry-out fortnightly meetings to implement further strategies to support the behaviour.

At this stage the school is likely to seek support from Behavioural specialists and other agencies within Children's Services.

Where deemed necessary, the pupil will be moved to time out – the pastoral lead will determine the length of the period the pupil will spend in isolation, as well as any detention time.

De-escalation strategies

Where negative behaviour is present, staff members will implement de-escalation strategies to diffuse the situation. This includes:

- Appearing calm and using a modulated, low tone of voice
- Using simple, direct language.
- Avoiding being defensive, e.g. if comments or insults are directed at the staff member.
- Providing adequate personal space and not blocking a pupil's escape route.
- Showing open, accepting body language, e.g. not standing with their arms crossed.
- Reassuring the pupil and creating an outcome goal.
- Identifying any points of agreement to build a rapport.
- Offering the pupil a face-saving route out of confrontation, e.g. that if they stop the behaviour, then the consequences will be lessened.
- Rephrasing requests made up of negative words with positive phrases, e.g. "if you don't return to your seat, I won't help you with your work" becomes "if you return to your seat, I can help you with your work".
- Change of face
- Name it, to tame it
- Bring it, bin it or bag it

This section outlines the school's strategies for preventing unacceptable behaviour, minimising the severity of incidents, and using sanctions effectively and appropriately to improve pupils' behaviour in the future.

Positive teacher-pupil relationships

Positive teacher-pupil relationships are key to combatting unacceptable behaviour. The school focusses heavily on forming these relationships to allow teachers to understand their pupils and create a strong foundation from which behavioural change can take place.

Managing Dysregulated Behavior in Classroom

If a child is demonstrating, dysregulation, be this through low-level disruption or significant dysregulation, the following steps need to be followed.

Context: Dysregulated behaviour shown

Person: Adults available within the class (with minimal disruption to the learning)

Action: Application of de-escalation strategies.

Context: Dysregulation strategies did not have the desired effect. Further emotional regulation support needed

Person: 1:1 Support Assistant/ Teaching Assistant

Action: Adult and child move to the Nook to work alongside the PSE Regulation Support Worker. 1:1 Support Assistant/ Teaching Assistant remain with the child as they regulate.

3.

Context: Child continues to display dysregulated behaviours in class and refuses to leave the environment

Person: 1:1 Support Assistant/ Teaching Assistant

Action: 1:1 Support Assistant/ Teaching Assistant alerts PSE Regulation Support Worker using a Red Triangle. If the Regulation Support Worker is working with another child. 1:1 Support Assistant/ Teaching Assistant remains with the child and Regulation Support Worker goes to the dysregulated child in the class.

Context: Child is now calm and ready to return to class.

Person: 1:1 Support Assistant/ Teaching Assistant and PSE Regulation Support Worker.

Action: 1:1 Support Assistant/ Teaching Assistant and PSE Regulation Support Worker re integrate the child back into class. Key strategies are shared and expectations given.

Context: Work missed because of dysregulation.

Person: PSE Regulation Support Worker.

Action: PSE Regulation Support Worker to work alongside the child to support them with completing the work 12.15-12.30.

Physical Restraint

In line with the school's Positive Handling Policy, trained members of staff have the legal right to use reasonable force to prevent pupils from committing an offence, injuring themselves or others, or damaging school property, and to maintain good order and discipline in the classroom.

Physical restraint will only be used as a last resort and as a method of restraint. Staff members will use their professional judgement of the incident to decide whether physical intervention is necessary. The situations in which physical restraint may be appropriate are detailed in the Positive Handling Policy.

Wherever possible, staff will ensure that a second member of staff is present to witness the physical intervention used. After an instance of physical intervention, the pupil will be immediately taken to the headteacher and the pupil's parent will be contacted and strategies put in place to support the child.

Any violent or threatening behaviour will not be tolerated by the school and may result in a fixed-term exclusion in the first instance. It is at the discretion of the headteacher as to what behaviour constitutes for an exclusion.

When using reasonable force in response to risks presented by incidents involving pupils with SEND or medical conditions, the school will recognise and consider the vulnerability of these groups.

Time out

The school may decide to ask a pupil to move to a separate room or space away from other pupils for a limited period.

The school will only ask pupils to move out of the learning environment where absolutely necessary. The school will ensure that pupils' health and safety is not compromised during their time out, and that any additional requirements, such as SEND needs, are met.

The amount of time that a pupil spends out will be up to the school to decide. This could be for more than one school day. The school will ensure that the pupil is not kept out of their classroom any longer than necessary.

The staff member in charge and supervising the pupil will decide what the pupil may and may not do during their time spent out of class. There will be work to complete but tasks may also include restorative work, brain breaks and thrive activities if appropriate. The headteacher will request that the pupil's class teachers set them appropriate work to complete.

Pupils are permitted to eat during the allocated times of the school day and may use the toilet and drink as required.

Sexual abuse and discrimination

The school prohibits all forms of sexual abuse and discrimination, including sexual harassment, gender-based bullying and sexual violence. The school's procedures for handling child-on-child sexual abuse and discrimination are detailed in the Child on Child Abuse Policy.

The school will respond promptly and appropriately to any sexual harassment complaints in line with the Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy; appropriate steps will be taken to stop the harassment and prevent any reoccurrence. Discipline for incidents of sexual harassment will be determined based on the nature of the case, the ages of those involved and any previous related incidents.

Smoking and controlled substances

The school will follow the procedures outlined in the Drug and Alcohol Policy when managing behaviour in regard to smoking and nicotine products, legal and illegal drugs, and alcohol.

In accordance with part 1 of the Health Act 2006, this school is a smoke-free environment. Parents, visitors, staff and pupils are instructed not to smoke on school grounds. Pupils are not permitted to bring smoking materials or nicotine products to school.

The school has a zero-tolerance policy on illegal drugs, legal highs and other controlled substances. Where incidents with pupils related to controlled substances occur, the school will follow the procedures outlined in the Pupil Drug and Alcohol Policy and Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy.

Prohibited items, searching pupils and confiscation

The Headteacher and staff authorised by them have a statutory power to search pupils or their possessions, without consent, where they have reasonable grounds for suspecting that the pupil may have a prohibited item. The prohibited items are:

- Knives or weapons.
- Alcohol.
- Illegal drugs.
- Stolen items.
- Tobacco and cigarette papers.
- Fireworks.
- Pornographic images.
- Any article that the member of staff reasonably suspects has been, or is likely to be, used:
 - To commit an offence; or
 - To cause personal injury to any person, including the pupil themselves; or
 - To damage the property of any person, including the pupil themselves.

The Headteacher and other authorised members of staff are permitted to use reasonable force when conducting a search without consent for certain prohibited items, in line with the school's Positive Handling Policy.

Effective classroom management

Well-managed classrooms are paramount to preventing disruptive and unacceptable behaviour. The school understands that effective classroom management allows staff to:

- Start the year with clear sets of rules and routines that are understood by all pupils.
- Establish agreed rewards and positive reinforcements.
- Establish sanctions for misbehaviour.
- Establish clear responses for handling behavioural problems.
- Encourage respect and development of positive relationships.
- Make effective use of the physical space available.
- Have well-planned lessons with a range of activities to keep pupils stimulated.

Subject to reasonable adjustments, e.g. those made for pupils whose SEND may affect their behaviour, pupils will be expected to follow the school Pupil Code of Conduct, which requires pupils to:

- Conduct themselves around the school premises in a safe, sensible and respectful manner.
- Arrive to lessons on time and fully prepared.
- Follow reasonable instructions given by staff.
- Behave in a reasonable and polite manner towards all staff and pupils.

- Show respect for the opinions and beliefs of others.
- Complete classwork as requested.
- Hand in homework at the time requested.
- Report unacceptable behaviour.
- Show respect for the school environment.

Classroom rules and routines

The school has an established set of clear, comprehensive and enforceable classroom rules which define what is acceptable behaviour and what the consequences are if rules are not adhered to. Attention is given to how rules are worded, such as the use of positive language rather than negative, e.g. "act respectfully towards your peers and teachers", rather than "do not act disrespectfully towards your peers and teachers".

The school also has an established set of classroom routines to help pupils work well, in the understanding that behavioural problems can arise due to the lack of a consistent routine. This includes teachers ensuring that before lessons begin, they have the full attention of all pupils, then explaining the task clearly so all pupils understand what they are supposed to be doing.

The headteacher ensures all teachers understand classroom rules and routines and how to enforce them, including any sanctions for not following the rules.

Teachers support pupils to understand and follow classroom rules and routines. Teachers inform pupils of classroom rules and routines at the beginning of the academic year and revisit these daily. Where appropriate, teachers explain the rationale behind the rules and routines to help pupils understand why they are needed, and will model rules and routines to ensure pupils understand them. Teachers also explain clearly to pupils what will happen if they breach any classroom rules to ensure pupils are aware of the sanctions that may be imposed.

To support pupils' continued awareness and understanding of classroom rules and routines, teachers reinforce them in a range of ways, e.g. placing posters of the rules on classroom walls and providing regular verbal reminders of the routines. Teachers also ensure that classroom rules and routines remain consistent and are practised throughout the year to create a more productive and enjoyable environment.

The classroom environment

The school understands that a well-structured classroom environment is paramount to preventing poor behaviour. This includes the teacher positioning themselves effectively within the classroom, e.g. wherever possible, teachers avoid standing with their backs to pupils and ensure they have full view of the room at all times.

Teachers employ strategic seating arrangements to prevent poor behaviour and enable it to be noticed early, such as:

- Seating those who frequently model poor behaviour closest to, and facing, the teacher.
- Seating those who frequently model poor behaviour away from each other.
- Ensuring the teacher can see pupils' faces, that pupils can see one another, and that they can see the board.
- Ensuring the teacher can move around the room so that behaviour can be monitored effectively.

Bullying

Definition of Bullying: Carnforth School consider that bullying is repeated, deliberate behaviour, repeated over a period of time, which makes another person feel threatened, distressed, hurt or upset.

The school does not tolerate bullying – including cyber-bullying - of any kind. If we discover that an act of bullying or intimidation has taken place, we act immediately to try to prevent any further occurrences of such behaviour. While it is very difficult to eradicate bullying, we do everything in our power to ensure that all children attend school free from fear. (Keeping Children Safe in Education 2025)

Underlying Principles: each bullying and prejudice related incident, holds unique and distinctive features, which need to be considered. Carnforth School's responses should be informed by the principles below if we are to challenge and counter prejudice related incidents and ensure the wellbeing and achievement of all our children.

- All children are entitled to an education, which respects and values their identity, individuality and background and is free from prejudice, harassment and adverse discrimination.
- Prejudice related bullying could prevent children from learning and be a significant barrier to their achievement.
- Prejudice related bullying impacts on a child's social and emotional wellbeing.
- All staff, children, parents, carers and governors should be aware of the school's policy and procedures for dealing with prejudice related incidents.
- All allegations of prejudice related bullying should be taken seriously and investigated thoroughly.
- Carnforth School will keep parents, carers and children informed during an investigation and advise them of any action that is taken. This should be discussed sensitively with the child or young person beforehand.

Definition of Prejudice Related Incidents

- A racist incident is any incident which is perceived to be racist by the victim or any other person.
- A disability related incident is any incident which is perceived to be so by the victim or any other person.
- A homophobic related incident is any incident which is perceived to be homophobic by the victim or any other person. Furthermore, the victim does not have to be lesbian, gay or bisexual to experience homophobic bullying, but may be targeted because they are perceived to be gay, or because a member of their family is gay, for example.

At Carnforth School we strive to create an atmosphere in school where all members of the school community respect each other – ensuring that all are listened to, always. The school ensures that there is:

- Direct teaching of PSHCE (personal, social, health and citizenship education) Learning of life skills; themed National events - such as Anti-Bullying Week; and restorative, informal discussions take place throughout the day, where appropriate.
- Children feel valued, by means of teaching through the curriculum and displays show: recognition of achievement; rewards and celebrating our diversity.
- Through monitoring reviews, the School Council and regular child surveys, our children feel they have a voice and that their opinion matters.
- We ensure that consistent behaviour management and high-quality activities are available at playtimes and lunchtimes.
- We share information with parents and work closely with them when/if incidents of bullying /prejudice occur. All members of the school community follow this policy consistently.

If an incident(s) occur, Carnforth School will support both the victim and the perpetrator by various means. This will include:

Support for the victim:

- Time with an adult to help build self-esteem/peer support (Behaviour Specialist)
- Lunchtime staff are fully aware of the issues and can offer support.

Suspension and Permanent exclusions

A decision to exclude a child permanently should only be taken in response to a serious breach or persistent breaches of the school's behaviour policy and where allowing the child to remain in school would seriously harm the education or welfare of the child or others in the school. The headteacher will consider whether the child should be suspended, in line with the school's Suspension and Exclusion Policy, and will determine the length of the suspension.

Although unacceptable behaviour does not necessarily mean a child has SEND, an assessment will be carried out at this stage to determine whether there are any undiagnosed learning or communication difficulties, or mental health issues that may be contributing to the child's behaviour.

· Where a child is identified as having SEMH-related difficulties, SEND support will be put in place from the school's national SEND budget.

· Where SEND is not identified, but the headteacher determines that support is still required for the child, an Individual Behaviour Plan will be created to outline the necessary provisions in place.

If the headteacher permanently excludes a child, she/he informs the parents immediately, giving reasons for the exclusion. At the same time, the headteacher makes it clear to the parents that they can, if they wish, appeal against the decision to the governing body. The school informs the parents how to make any such appeal.

The headteacher informs the LA and the governing body about any permanent exclusion, and about any suspension beyond five days in any one term. The governing body itself cannot either suspend a child or extend the suspension period made by the headteacher.

The headteacher must, without delay, notify the governing body and the local authority of:

- any permanent exclusion (including where a suspension is followed by a decision to permanently exclude the child)
- any suspension which would result in the child being suspended for a total of more than five school days (or more than ten lunchtimes) in a term and any suspension which would result in the child missing a public examination or national curriculum test.

The governing body has a discipline committee which is made up of between three and five members. This committee considers any exclusion appeals on behalf of the governors. When an appeals panel meets to consider an exclusion, they consider the circumstances in which the child was excluded, consider any representation by parents and the LA, and consider whether the child should be reinstated.

If the governors' appeals panel decides that a child should be reinstated, the headteacher must comply with this ruling. For further information on suspension and permanent exclusions, please refer to the Trust's Exclusions Policy.

Behaviour outside of school premises

Children at the school must agree to represent the school in a positive manner. The guidance laid out in the Pupil Code of Conduct applies both inside school and out in the wider community, particularly if the child is dressed in school uniform.

Staff can discipline children for misbehaviour outside of the school premises, including conduct online, when the child is:

- Wearing school uniform.
- Travelling to or from school.
- Taking part in any school-related activity.
- In any way identifiable as being a child at the school.

Staff may also discipline children for misbehaviour outside the school premises, including conduct online, that:

- Could negatively affect the reputation of the school.
- Could pose a threat to another child, a member of staff at the school, or a member of the public.
- Could have repercussions for the orderly running of the school.

Any bullying witnessed outside of the school premises and reported to the school will be dealt with in accordance with the Anti-bullying Policy.

The school will impose the same sanctions for bullying incidents and non-criminal misbehaviour witnessed or reported outside of the school premises as would be imposed for the same behaviour conducted on school premises. In all cases of unacceptable behaviour outside of the school premises, staff will only impose sanctions once the child has returned to the school premises or when under the supervision of a member of staff.

Complaints from members of the public about the behaviour of children from the school are taken very seriously and will be dealt with in accordance with the Complaints Procedures Policy.
